Dapoxetine 60mg functions by delaying the process of ejaculation in men. It helps establish control over the process of ejaculation.

Types of sensual dysfunction in males

- Erectile disorder (or impotence)

This illness describes the inability of men to get and even maintain an erection during sensual contact. This illness is also known as ED. This illness is usually not a cause for concern. If the problem of erection failure begins to arise frequently, then it might cause psychological consequences as well. A person might experience low self-esteem and even low self-confidence.

The problem of erectile disorder can indicate that a person might also be suffering from some other health condition. He might be suffering from heart disease or diabetes.

If you are regularly experiencing erection failure, then it is essential to converse with your companion. If you handle underlying health conditions, then you will be able to reverse your erectile disorder problem.

- Early ejaculation (PE)

It is a sensual condition in which men ejaculate too soon during sensual contact with the lady. This illness can cause extreme frustration and even embarrassment during the sensual activity with the companion.
